1 Extremely rare 1864 Abraham Lincoln portrait flag, sized muslin 9½ X 13½. Portrait in canton of 35 stars, names "Lincoln and Johnson" in blue letters that match the canton. Light soiling, most prominent near right edge. Light folds can be ironed. Overall VF. 77,500.

All Lincoln portrait flags are very rare (and very expensive). Almost all of the known examples are from the 1860 election of Lincoln and Hamlin. I personally know of only two others from 1864. I sold one to a Connecticut collector (now deceased) about 25 years ago, and he had turned down offers of $85,000 and $100,000 for his. Another is in the hands of an Indiana collector, and I was told (reliably) that he had also turned down $100,000. There are no examples published in either Herb Collins Threads of History or the superb Schlesinger/Frent reference Running for President. It could be decades before another example is offered.

2 One of the best political canes I have owned. Exceptional entirely hand carved walnut, circa 1860-1864. At top is the slogan UNION AND LIBERTY in high relief block letters on cross hatched panel. Below that is the all-seeing open eye emblem. A cross hatched panel wraps around the shaft with large relief letters WIDE - AWAKES. A long high relief snake coils around 25" of the total 36" length. Excellent condition, and the only 1860's Wide Awake cane I have seen. 6,500.

3 Probably the best Andrew Jackson plate known. Exceptional 8" octagonal pearlware plate with blue feather edge and bold reddish brown portrait in uniform. "GEN JACKSON - HERO OF AMERICA - THE YEAR 1824". The only example I have seen in 30 years of collecting ceramics. Excellent condition. 14,500.

4 Probably the only gold quartz matchsafe known with a Presidential presentation. Superb quality with fancy engraved designs all around. Large slab of gold quartz on front, other side engraved "Presented by USG (fancy monogram) to J R Jones 1869". Lid has inset slab of moss agate. Joseph Russell Jones was a successful merchant from Grant's home town of Galena Illinois. He made a fortune during the war shipping embargoed cotton to the north. A close friend of Grants, he was made Minister Resident to Belgium after Grants inauguration in 1869. Upon his return to the US in 1875, Grant appointed him Collector of the Port of Chicago. He was forced to resign a year later amidst the scandals of the Grant Administration. Quartz panel has a tiny crack at extreme upper right corner, otherwise in pristine condition. With accompanying historical information on Jones. 20,000.

5 This great piece was purchased from a London dealer at the New York Ceramics Fair. Previously unseen 11" Paris porcelain figurine Robert E Lee, decorated in brilliant hard enamels, circa 1865-1875. He has sword, chapeau and binoculars. Cannon balls at side, Confederate national and battle flags behind him. Superb. 3,950.

6 In 30 years of collecting historical ceramics, this is only the second example I have seen of this large 26" parian figure of Henry Clay by famed sculptor Thomas Ball. Fully inscribed and signed on reverse of base. Ball also did a matching (but more frequently seen) figure of Daniel Webster. A marvelous rarity in excellent condition. 14,500.

7 Unique framed double set of the very rare 1861 Defense of Fort Sumter medals. On June 6 1861 the New York State Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution to honor the defenders with a medal to be struck in 4 sizes (with two different reverse designs). The commission was given to sculptor Charles Muller, and the medals were presented at a ceremony on May 1 1862. The medals were as follows: First Class six inch size for Major Robert Anderson. Portrait of Anderson, reverse with Columbia holding torch and flag on parapet of fort. Second Class four inch size for the nine commissioned officers, same design as preceding. Third Class was 3½" made for the 22 non commissioned officers. Andersons portrait is on the obverse, with the reverse depicting Sgt Peter Hart replacing the downed flag. Fourth Class in 2½" size for the 51 other enlisted men. 8,950.

At the time the David Dreyfuss sale was catalogued in 1986 the six inch medal was thought to be unique. After the catalog was published it was realized that a second example was in the ANS collection. Several years later it was discovered that the Chamber of Commerce had in fact reserved a double set of 8 medals for themselves, which were encased so as to display obverse and reverse of each medal. The large 18 X 26 X 3½" wooden case is decorated with the 8 Chambers name in deeply carved gilt lettering. Each medal is secured in a circular opening by revolving metal pegs, with a background of deep purple velvet. A unique presentation set, containing two of the four known large size medals. 12,500.

9 A spectacular large 1860 Lincoln broadside, printed in Boston by F A Searles. Long quote from Lincoln's speech in Leavenworth Kansas, Dec 1859. John Brown was hanged Dec 2, 1859, and at that time Lincoln was already being considered a Presidential possibility. He was on a speaking tour to several Kansas towns, where he made numerous references to Brown and the execution. He rails against the Democrats for their threats to break up the Union if a Republican is elected. "Old John Brown has just been executed for treason...slavery wrong...cannot excuse violence, bloodshed and treason...if we elect a President and you undertake to destroy the Union IT WILL BE OUR DUTY TO DEAL WITH YOU AS OLD JOHN BROWN HAS BEEN DEALT WITH..." Large 18¾ X 24 (sight), custom framed to 24 X 30. Light age toning actually adds to its overall visual appeal. Wonderful historical content. 9,500.

10 Beautiful 9½ Liverpool creamware pitcher "Thomas Jefferson - President of the United States of America", portrait surrounded by double strands of vine with the names of the states. Reverse eagle and linked rings with the 16 states. With the exception of some minor pinprick specks of rubbing on the shoulder of his coat, the appearance is superb. There has been some excellent restoration in the blank white base and rim - my restorer is very good. The piece looks perfect. 7,950.

11 Extremely rare card menu for the dinner given by the Aero Club of France in honor of Wilbur Wright, Nov 5 1908. Wright had become the most celebrated man in Europe as he set numerous aviation records before immense crowds. Menu has four different scenes of the flight trials at Camp d'Auvours. Signed by Wright in ink with a large, bold signature. He was to die of typhoid fever in 1912, and his signature is rare. Size 9 X 12 (sight) in expensive museum frame. Horizontal crease at center, couple small edge tears. Bright, clean, bold. Exhibited at the 100th Anniversary of the International Aeronautics Federation, Bourget Airport, France. 4,750.

12 Terrific large 10" multicolor creamware pitcher "To the Memory of Washington and the Proscribed Patriots of America". GW Memorial obelisk and portraits Samuel Adams - John Hancock. Reverse with ship in color flying American flag. Under spout is large federal eagle with Jefferson quotation about Peace, Friendship, Entangling Alliances. Excellent condition, no damage or restoration. 11,500.

13 Most collectors don't understand the history behind this piece, and few know the word "proscribed", which means outlawed or banned. As Boston became a tinderbox in the spring of 1775 and the British were anticipating the start of a shooting war, a proclamation offered a general amnesty to the colonists if they would lay down their arms and swear allegiance to the crown. But the amnesty specifically exempted Samuel Adams and John Hancock, who would surely hang if they were captured. 7,500.

14 I know of two examples selling for over $10,000 in the past few years, and I sold one from my collection (I owned three) for $8,500 in 2007. Superb and rare 7½" bombe form jug with buff ground and pink lustre trim. "James Lawrence Esq - Late of the United States Navy". Reverse with American ship and slogan THE TRUE BLOODED YANKEE. Beautiful undamaged condition with just minor wear as expected to the edges of the lustre trim. 8,950.

15 Very rare broadside 13 X 20 in period walnut frame 15 X 22. W R Andrews, just returned from California...Lecture on Gold Mines of California. Exhibit of gold dust, nuggets, mining equipment. With testimonials of others who sailed with Andrews on the steamer Panama from San Francisco. Printed in Rochester NY, 1849. Bit of very minor soiling and light wrinkles, excellent plus condition. 3,500.

I purchased the following four items several years ago. All are from the legendary collection of Stanley King (APIC 442), who I have known for almost 40 years. Stan was one of the first political collectors to recognize the significance of photography in antebellum politics. These were some of his best photographic items.

113 Superb quarter plate daguerreotype (from an engraving) Winfield Scott in Mexican War uniform, white pants and gloves, standing next to his magnificent white horse. Wonderful condition, brilliant image (catalog photo came out dark) 5,500.

114 Very crisp sixth plate daguerreotype from a painting- Zachary Taylor in major-generals uniform. A couple very minor small scratches seen under magnification, overall superb. In perfect condition push button leather case with velvet liner of Bradys Gallery, Broadway NYC. 5,000.

115 Marvelous sixth plate ambrotype, bearded "Lincoln" with name below. Fancy border is part of the image. Crisp image from an unidentified print, on deep ruby glass. Few small flakes and scratches in background, appearance is near mint. In excellent thermoplastic union case depicting seated Liberty between steamship and locomotive. A great Lincoln image. 4,500.

116 Incredible and most likely unique jugate albumen photo of a beardless Lincoln with his running mate Hannibal Hamlin. This is a sixteenth plate photo, 1½ X 1½, now in an excellent thermoplastic case. When I first saw this piece it was in a badly damaged gilt mat and protector with a dirty, cloudy cover glass. Simply replacing the frame and glass revealed this for the superb gem it really is - one of the best Lincoln - Hamlin jugates you will ever see, and one of the finest 1860 Lincoln items to appear on the market. Minor bit of soiling, basically excellent. 7,750.

117 Rare 1949 Truman - Barkley inaugural police badge, pristine. 1,000.

119 Rare 6" Lincoln mourning badge with gem sized cardboard photo, excellent. 1,000.

120 A unique 1864 Lincoln campaign item made by a Civil War soldier, and obviously worn in the field. An 1860 model staff and field officers sword with a punched tin sleeve wrapped tightly around the leather part of the scabbard and soldered at the ends. The punched 1" high letters spell out "LINCOLN & UNION IN 1864". Each tiny punched hole was then filled with red paint for contrast. Obviously unique, and the only sword I've seen that is positively a campaign item. Fine condition, leather grip and wire wrap fully intact and tight. Spread eagle on pommel. With red/white/blue sword knot. An incredible item! 9,750.

An item such as this would be the most valuable thing owned by a free black in a border state, as it would ostensibly prevent one from being seized by a slave catcher and forced into slavery. Of course a disreputable sheriff could always just tear up the document when it was presented as proof of freedom! A marvelous relic of the antebellum south. Ironically, it was Bryan's death that saved him from nearly complete disaster as a result of the Bryan trial. He died at precisely the right moment, for to many persons he became a martyr. Bryan said, "Had this happened to Darwin, Tennessee would have regarded it as a Judgment of God. As it was, Bryan was gathered to the angels."

While some called him a martyr, many others called him a buffoon. Both labels derive from the Bryan trial. But no one wants to be remembered for his old age, while the rest of his life is ignored. A fairer label would be based upon all the years of his life rather than those at the end when the flame flickered out of a core of hardened dogma, and that label would have to be neither martyr nor buffoon. Bryan was, like most of us, an individual who had contributed both good and bad, and a fair man would pity him for the bad he brought to the world, and love him for the good.

THE SOUL DAGUERREOTYPED.

A few years ago I had no existence.
Though I must die, I shall never cease to exist.
My course of life will decide my future destiny.
My every act will meet me at the judgment.
My present life will either bless or curse the world.
Good words or actions will never be regretted;
But wicked acts will cause heartfelt sorrow.
Rich gems are gathered from the earth and ocean,
But my soul is the richest jewel of all.
What, now, is my greatest object and desire?
If I attain that object, will it make me happy?
If I am finally lost, whose fault will it be?
